Rodney Alan Greenblat: Familiar Frontiers. First Australian exhibition by a young artist from New York's East Village. The painter laureate of Peter Panism, Greenblat compulsively covers everything with bright, cartoony images and patterns. When not making rodneytronic brainturbine vehicles or wardrobes with walking legs, he is gently parodying the dreams of middle America in childlike pictures of happy dogs, frogs, smiling cabins and button-eyed relatives of little Lulu. Australian Centre for Contemporary Art, until January 25.
